Understanding the World

Last week we thought about people visiting the beach and some of them leaving litter behind. We thought about why this might be a bad thing, and some of you drew fantastic posters and signs to let people know they should be putting their rubbish in the bin.

Can you pretend to be the person on the television news who is giving a report on the problem? You and your adult together could watch <https://www.bbc.co.uk/newsround/42810179> (CBBC Newsround What is the problem with plastic?) to get ideas.

Think about what the problem is (too much litter on the beach), how this might be damaging our planet, and what people could do instead to solve the problem. You could then have your adult video your report and send it in.
